

Annual Report 2010

Girl Scouts builds girls of courage, confidence, and character who make the world a better place.

A message from the Board Chair & C.E.O.

As Girl Scouts celebrates our 100th Anniversary next year, we have a lot to look forward to and reflect upon. With our wonderful volunteers, donors, and staff who have joined together to advance the Girl Scout Mission, we thank you for your support, for believing in our work and for trusting us with the next generation of women leaders who will make the world a better place for all.

In 2011, with the passion and commitment of more than 2,200 volunteers, we served more than 17,600 Girl Scouts in our 26 county jurisdiction. These are girls who need us, regardless of their socio-economic status. With every passing year, our organization makes a difference in the lives of countless girls who have the potential to achieve and accomplish wonderful things.

In addition to progress made at the Council-level, this past year brought a national brand campaign to communicate the Girl Scout message and the power girls have to change the world through Girl Scouting. The branding is composed of a striking new visual identity, which includes a distinctive trefoil mark and re-freshed logo.

As you look through the Annual Report and learn of our performance and the impact we are making in the lives of many, we thank you for your support and hope you will join us as the journey continues and ushers in a new generation of Girl Scouts.

CEO

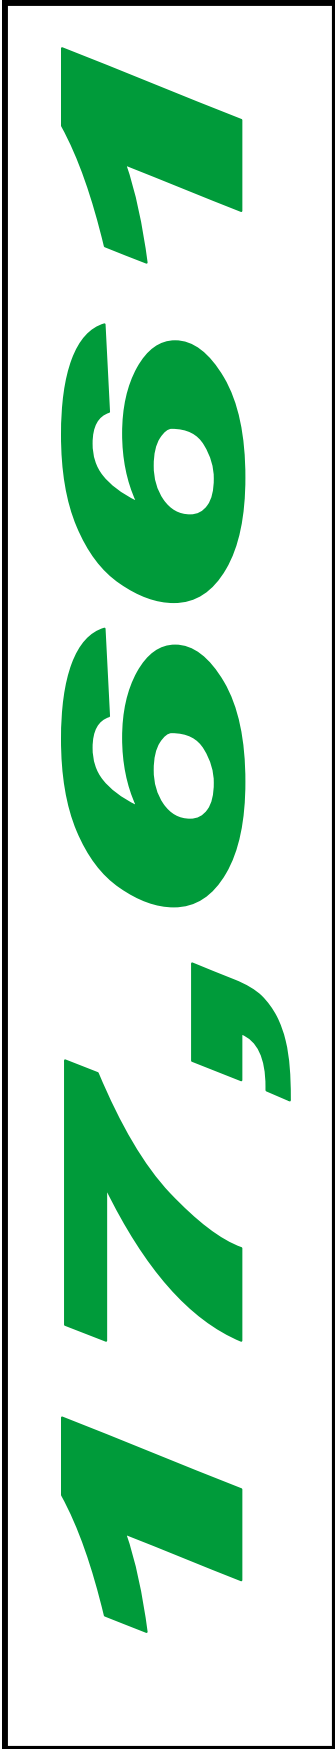

Girl Scout Law

I will do my best to be:

- Honest and fair,
- Friendly and helpful,
- Considerate and caring,
- Courageous and strong, and
- Responsible for what I say and do,
- And to
- Respect myself and others,
- Respect authority,
- Use resources wisely,
- Make the world a better place, and
- Be a sister to every Girl Scout.

Girl Scout Promise

- On my honor, I will try:
- To serve God and my country,
- To help people at all times,
- And to live by the Girl Scout Law.

Nicole E. Hewitt, of Kingsville, created a Skin Cancer Prevention and Awareness informational station to educate her community about skin cancer at the American Cancer Society’s Relay For Life. Nicole created posters, brochures, quizzes, and activities to present to her community. She reached over 150 people who demonstrated through surveys she implemented that they gained knowledge about preventing and treating skin cancer.

Ashley Clark, of Corpus Christi, completed a project called “Science Revival” that revitalized a space at King High School from an unused lawn to a landscaped opportunity for learning. Recycling the materials that she removed from the run-down area, she created garden beds for students to grow plants, and landscaped with a variety of plant types. Ashley built signs that provide scientific information about the plants now growing in the atrium, and installed them for use in future science class activities.

Jesta Pickens, of Corpus Christi, performed renovation work at Timon’s Ministries, a day resource center for homeless and poor. Jesta drew blueprints for an organizational system, gathered donations, and recruited a crew to help her to turn a messy storage room into a boutique with shelves, clothing racks, a sorting table, and plenty of space for people to enter the room and find what they need.

Girls discover the fun, friendship....

From September 2009 through October 2010, Girl Scouts of Greater South Texas offered 52 program opportunities and 2,201 girls attended the programs with 1,044 adults volunteering.
